Structure of Agricultural Enterprises in the Czech Republic:

- In the Czech Republic, there are 5,958 legal entities, of which 1,500 are specialized in livestock production and operate without land. Approximately 4,500 legal entities manage about 70% of the agricultural land. These enterprises are readers of printed magazines (subscription packages) and also have free access to e-paper versions as part of a subscription system that has been developed over the past 20 years.
- In addition, there are approximately 1,300 natural persons (individual farmers) managing more than 100 hectares and about 4,500 managing more than 50 hectares. Together with the legal entities, they cultivate 97.63% and 98.83% of the agricultural land, respectively.
- In total, there are roughly 5,800 enterprises and family farms that manage 97.63% of the agricultural land and account for 96.5% of livestock production.

Target Group and Focus for Printed and E-Paper Agricultural Magazines, Websites, and Social Media of the Publishing House
The approximately 5,800 farms and enterprises larger than 100 hectares, including those specialized in livestock production, are in the vast majority subscribers to printed magazines and users of free e-paper editions. These are provided as part of a subscription package system (including bulk discounts for magazine orders) that has been developed since the year 2000, with e-paper editions introduced in 2017. The Zemědělec Weekly (Farmer Weekly) reaches, through its comprehensive coverage, the group of 9,085 enterprises and farms larger than 50 hectares. In total, there are 45,249 registered agricultural business entities in the Czech Republic, of which 36,126 are smaller than 50 hectares and collectively manage 8.63% of agricultural land. These smaller farms and enterprises primarily follow the publisher’s websites and social media channels and, in increasing numbers, also access e-paper editions of the magazines.
